By James Tenpenny

Bibliogov, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 246 x 189 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . In this interview with Colonel Michael Moody, conducted by fellow aviator and one of his former company commanders, Major James Tenpenny, the colonel discusses his Operation Iraqi Freedom experiences as commander of the 4th Brigade Combat Team, 4th Infantry Division, from March 2003 through March 2004. Also present and questioned was Lieutenant Colonel Michael Tetu, formerly Moody's operations officer/executive officer in 4th BCT. The interview begins with a detailed discussion of the procedures underwent and challenges faced in moving all of 4th BCT's vehicles, aircraft and related equipment from Fort Hood to port; the circumstances surrounding the aborted plan to enter northern Iraq from staging bases in Turkey; and the BCT's ultimate entry into country by way of Kuwait and eventual settlement at FOB Speicher. It then moves into such subjects as the leadership techniques employed to get subordinate commanders to remain focused on the mission in light of the Turkey option being initially in question and then finally not coming to fruition; how they maintained positive communications with subordinate commanders during the move north...
