General Accounting Office, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)52951864 Subject: Internet gambling -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . operate the electronic networks that handle all information on transactions for cardholders and merchants. American Express and Discover market their credit card business to consumers and potential merchants in the United States. Both companies issue cards to individuals, and American Express also issues cards to businesses. In addition, American Express has arrangements in some overseas markets to license foreign banks to issue its cards and acquire merchants. As of December 31, 2001, American Express had arrangements with 74 institutions located in 77 countries other than the United States. Both federal and state laws apply to Internet gambling in the United States. In general, gambling is a matter of state law, with each state for Internet Gambling determining whether individuals can gamble within its borders and whether gaming businesses can legally operate there. Since Internet Is Complex gambling typically occurs through interstate or international means, with a Web site located in one state or country and the gambler in another, federal law is used to protect the states from having their laws circumvented. To date, the Wire Act is the federal statute that has been used to prosecute federal Internet gambling cases, although courts sometimes disagree on the applicability of certain provisions of the statute. In addition, the Travel Act and the Illegal Gambling Business Act have been used to prosecute gambling entities that take interstate or international bets over the telephone and would likely be applicable to Internet gambling activity. Some states have taken specific legislative actions to address Internet gambling,...
