Bancroft Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Thrown a Curve: A Novel, Sara Griffiths, She has never known her mother. Her father seems to hate her. She has only one true friend, who is a boy. A mediocre student and a social misfit, she is downright miserable. This is the life of Taylor Dresden, a freshman in a gritty New Jersey high school. The only pleasure she has ever had was playing baseball. But at the age of eight, she stopped playing when she overheard her dad say how embarrassed he was by her talent -- that it far exceeded his sons'. As a fourteen-year-old struggling to find her true self among the ruins of her life, Taylor is branded a juvenile delinquent after a single incident of vandalism, committed at her own school. Her guidance counsellor, instead of pressing charges on the school's behalf, offers her an alternate punishment -- join the baseball team and talk regularly to him. Forced to play baseball once again, Taylor feels that life has thrown her a few too many curves. None of the boys want her on the team. No girls are her friend. Her dad ignores her. Her one friend complicates their relationship by becoming a possible love interest. Eventually, after several baseball games and several sessions with her guidance counsellor, Taylor begins to gain the self-confidence she needs to straighten out her life. She realises she has real talent as a pitcher, especially with her killer curveball. She begins to accept the friendship of other girls. She starts to enjoy a romance with her best friend. She even attempts to improve the dreadful relationship she has with her distant dad. Taylor's story reflects the plight of every adolescent who has struggled with self-worth and identity, with relational problems between...
